Evolution of Digital Automation

What is Robotic Process Automation (RPA)

What is robotic process automation?

Robotic process automation (RPA) is a software technology that makes it easy to build, deploy, and manage software robots that emulate humans actions interacting with digital systems and software. Just like people, software robots can do things like understand what's on a screen, complete the right keystrokes, navigate systems, identify and extract data, and perform a wide range of defined actions. But software robots can do it faster and more consistently than people, without the need to get up and stretch or take a coffee break.

Here's an example of a software robot hard at work reading and evaluating resumes via <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2qqW7HlqIU>

What are the business benefits of RPA?

Robotic process automation streamlines workflows, which makes organizations more profitable, flexible, and responsive. It also increases employee satisfaction, engagement, and productivity by removing mundane tasks from their workdays.

RPA is noninvasive and can be rapidly implemented to accelerate digital transformation. And it's ideal for automating workflows that involve legacy systems that lack APIs, virtual desktop infrastructures (VDIs), or database access.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'academy.uipath.com/#'. The main content area features a white modal box with the 'UiPath Academy' logo at the top. Below the logo, the text 'I agree with the following:' is displayed. There are two checkboxes: the first is 'I agree to the updated Terms of Use and Privacy Policy.' and the second is 'I consent to UiPath sharing my learning reports with my employer or affiliated organization'. A 'Confirm' button is located at the bottom of the modal box. A red oval highlights the entire modal box, and a black arrow points from the text '3. Agree to terms of use' to the top of the oval.
